Following the Government’s recent push to establish Hong Kong as an IP trading hub, and a centre for related dispute resolution, the HK Mediation Council is pleased to host a talk on the use of mediation in the context of IP disputes. It will be given by two experienced IP law practitioners who will discuss the pros and cons of mediation as a form of alternative dispute resolution, and what makes it suitable or unsuitable for disputes concerning IP rights. The seminar will be of interest to IP legal practitioners, including in-house lawyers, general mediators, as well as IP professionals, collecting societies and other copyright licensing bodies.

About The Speakers:

Ms Stephanie Cheung
Stephanie was admitted as a solicitor in High Court of Hong Kong in 1975. Since 2002, she has been a consultant with F Zimmern & Co. She is an accredited mediator (general and family) of the HKIAC, the Law Society of Hong Kong, HKMAAL and a Parenting Co-ordinator. Her practice includes intellectual property, registration, licensing and related litigation.

Mr CW Ling
CW was called to the Bar in 1996 in Hong Kong and England. He has practised in Des Voeux Chambers as a barrister since 1997. He has a broad civil and commercial practice, with a distinct focus on intellectual property disputes. CW is an accredited mediator (general) with the HKIAC and the HKMAAL. He is a member of the Committee of the HK Mediation Council.
